

KO Breast Cancer

Charity for Women, which is dedicated to educating and supporting women who are diagnosed with breast cancer, held an inaugural boxing gala in Tampa in conjunction with Morton Plant Mease Foundation. The proceeds of "The Fight for Life" will be distributed through the Morton Plant Mease Foundation and The Kelly Jo Dowd Fund. Dr. Peter Blumencranz was the guest speaker prior to the seated dinner and seven fights that featured both amateur and professional boxers.

Dick Greco and his wife, Dr. Linda McClintock of Age-Less Medicine, were pleased to lend their support to this worthy charity.

John Schaible, a co-founder of Charity for Women, and Sandip Patel of Orion Communities, were the co-sponsors of this novel fundraiser.

Zaida Jackson, the event coordinator, and her husband Chris are looking forward to building the event into an even bigger success next year.

Tracey Ringstaff and Gameela El-Yousef of Chic Promotions helped to create miracles for Charity for Women, where every woman deserves hope.

